Antique stone fireplaces and mantels

XIXth and XXth Centuries

French 19th Century antique stone fireplace with jambs sculpted with colonnade

This stone fireplace dating from the early 19th century is an Empire fireplace ideal for small spaces. It consists of a rectangle stone lintel carved with grooves and fine moldings and of a pair of jambs adorned with sculpted columns. These jambs end in narrowing facade thus reducing the firebox opening of this rare mantle in natural stone.
