Antique rectangular troughs in stone

Antique stone trough as a charming and rustic planter

This distinctive antique stone trough features a large rectangular basin with an adjoining circular compartment. Carved from a single block of raw limestone, it is perfect for adding a rustic touch to a garden. It could be used as a flower box or planter, or even transformed into an elegant, antique-style fountain. A one-of-a-kind reclaimed piece, sold as-is. The basins are not drilled.
